Billy Godley Dies Suddenly

The people of this community were very much shocked on Thursday to learn of the death of Billy Godley, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Godley. His illness is reported to have been from tuberculosis of the bowels. He had appeared to be in usual health and had attended school up till Tuesday, so that few had heard of his illness.

On Thursday his condition was such that an operation was considered necessary and he was taken to the hospital, but did not survive the operation. The funeral will take place from the residence on Sunday, at 2 p.m.

Billy was a bright, promising boy, well liked by all who knew him. He was one of twins, leaving a twin sister. The family have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

Chautauqu closed Wednesday evening after furnishing six days of high class entertainment. It was favored with fine weather throughout, and the big tent was crowded close to capacity on several occasions. Chautauqu will be with us again next year. 15 local people being signed the contract.

ANSWERS TO LAST WEEK'S QUESTIONS

148. What Is a Tornado?

The United States averages 88 tornadoes (commonly called cyclones) a year. Very few people see one. While of terrific intensity, they are usually only a few yards to a mile in width, and one mile to 25 miles in length. They result from the meeting of tremendous opposing air currents, warm humid ones from the south and cold ones from the north. When the storm is formed, a slender funnel extends from the clouds towards the ground. Its forward advance is 25 to 50 miles an hour; no instrument is capable of measuring the velocity within the funnel, but it is calculated to be as much as 200 to 300 miles an hour.

149. The Proper Thing to Do If Caught in a Tornado?

A tornado usually travels south-west to northeast. The southern and southeast margin of a funnel has combined rotary and progressive velocity, and is more dangerous than the northern margin. The northwest being at right angles to the storm's path, it is the least violent and the storm's greatest safety runs your best toward the northwest—even a few feet may mean safety instead of destruction. A "tornado" race, "dig-out," as called in pioneer days, is considered a safer refuge than a house. If you take refuge in a cellar of a house, the door to the west wall as possible, never toward the east side.

150. How Are Mississippi Levees Constructed?

Levee construction at New Orleans was begun as early as 1717. The levees at that time averaged about 4 feet in height. Those of today average 18 feet, with a crest of 10 feet wide and slopes of 2 to one. Standard levees are built to a height of 3 feet above flood stage; are solid with grass to prevent erosion by rain, and where exposed to wave action a layer of concrete protection is added. Bank erosion is prevented by revetment, which usually consists of willows woven into a mattress and weighted down by rocks. During floods the river is frequently 20 feet above the land lying outside the levees.

151. How Are the Levees Protected During Floods?

Guards patrolled them day and night. A sharp lookout is kept for sand holes—spots close to the base of a levee where muddy water begins to boil out. When they develop, a levee of sand bags is built about them; the water allowed to rise to the height of the river, and the pressure thus removed. If muddy water begins to seep through the levee, branches of trees are thrown over the weak places, and weighted down by sand bags, and the resulting mats hold back the water if made in time. When a weak levee begins to "blow out" and does not respond at once to treatment, it is a sure indication it will break.

152. The World's Highest Mountain?

Mount Everest is indeed, "the top of the world." Situated on the frontiers of Nepal and Tibet, 83 east longitude, 28 north latitude; its elevation, as determined by trigonometrical observation, is 29,000 feet. A number of lives have been lost in attempts to climb it. It has been approached from almost every possible angle, always to find that sheer cliffs thousands of feet high prevented any approach to the summit. Members of a British expedition in 1924 reached an altitude of 28,200 feet, a world's record for mountain climbing. The intense cold, snow and rarified air have so far baffled every attempt to reach the top.

153. The Lowest Body of Water in the World?

The Dead Sea, a celebrated lake in southern Palestine, northern end about 20 miles east of Jerusalem; length 40 miles, width 5 to 10 miles, greatest depth 1,308 feet; its depression below the Mediterranean is 1,316 feet, making its bed accordingly by far the deepest depression on the face of the earth. It is fed by the Jordan and other streams and has no outlet. It is inclosed between naked cliffs of limestone, which on the eastern side rise to a height of 2,500 feet above the water. Its saltness is seven times that of the ocean, and is so great that fish cannot live in it.

154. Why Do Men Have Buttons on Their Coat Sleeves?

They are neither useful nor ornamental, but originally served a useful purpose. Several hundred years ago people did not use handkerchiefs, and it was quite common for men to use their sleeves to wipe their noses on. A certain king when reviewing his crack soldiers, noticed some of them using the sleeves of their fancy uniforms as handkerchiefs. He became so indignant he issued a decree that all coats should have a row of buttons sewed on the upper side of the sleeve. Later people generally used handkerchiefs, and a change in style shifted the buttons to the opposite side of the sleeve, where they remain to this day.

CALGARY EXHIBITION AND STAMPEDE

Although the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede has an international reputation for being the most thrilling, instructive and entertaining annual celebration held anywhere, the directors and managers are determined that this combined event which is to be held at Calgary, July 11th to 16th, Canada's 60th anniversary year, will surpass all others.

Three new features will add new thrills and greater interest. These include a new stampede contest called steer decorating, the appearance for the first time in Canada of Brahma steers for the steer riding contest, and a novelty stage production, "At the Fair," which will be the closing feature of each evening's program.

The Brahma steers are a cross between the sacred cattle of India and the Texas cattle, and are similar to the Texas cattle in build, with very long horns. To say they are wild and hard to ride is putting it mildly.

The wild steer decorating contest is a death defying daredevil stunt, where the cowboy leaps, handbranded, from the back of a galloping horse to the horns of a wild steer and places a ribbon on

"THE GREATEST FORWARD STEP

IN THREE THOUSAND YEARS"

The Wheat Pool

H. W. Wood, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool, says that in forming this marketing organization the farmers took the greatest step forward in three thousand years.

The Wheat Pool enables wheat producers to handle their wheat in their own way and sell it themselves in their own way. The entire force of this great organization is directed towards the desired end of bettering the condition of the western grain grower.

Every grain grower who joins the Pool now adds that much strength to the Organization. The stronger the Wheat Pool is, the better for Western Canada.

THE SECOND SERIES OF WHEAT POOL CONTRACTS ARE NOW READY.

"Sign for Safety"

the horn against time. No roping. Only his bare hands. The scene of thrills; a feature being introduced for the first time any where, where cowboy nerve, brawn and skill are unexcelled.

The Novelty Revue, "At the Fair," which will close each evening's program in front of the grand stand, is also a new idea in exhibition entertainment originated in Calgary, and will be an added surprise to a diversified and intensely interesting show.

In addition to the above new features and the magnificent display of the West's best live stock and industrial exhibits, the week's celebration includes the following features which made a new attendance record of 197,000 last year.

The Stampede parade, the great opening number five miles long, old timers' reunion, the western morning street display, running races, Indian races, cowboys' and old timers' ball, Australian National Band, high class vaudeville, fireworks, old time camp including Indians in their tepees, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, chuck wagon camp, all surrounding the log headquarters of the old timers, Mounted Police, Hudson's Bay trading post and forestry building. This combined celebration coupled with a visit to Banff, Lake Louise, gems of the Canadian Rockies, provides a wonderful opportunity for an unequalled holiday which cannot be equalled. Special passenger fares will be in force from Saskatchewan, Alberta, and British Columbia mainland points and special tourist rates can be obtained from anywhere to Calgary, Banff and Lake Louise. Accommodation may be secured by writing Dan F. Whitney, president Alberta Hotel Association, Calgary, and prize lists, and illustrated folder, may be obtained by writing the general offices of the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede, Calgary.

If you want to help the Red Cross in this campaign, "Do It Now." Talk to your friends of what the Society has done, interest the people you meet in home, street, office or social gatherings and impress on them the fact that this is the first call made by the Canadian Red Cross on the national purse in ten years.

Built for Endurance

BUILT for the beauty of Chevrolet there is an abundance of strength and sturdiness. In fact, in a structural sense, the Chevrolet is built to last. The body is made of heavy steel, and the chassis is built to last. The engine is built to last. The transmission is built to last. The wheels are built to last. The tires are built to last. The Chevrolet is built to last.

Chevrolet History is written in steel, low price, the lowest for which Chevrolet has ever been sold in Canada.

WORLD HAPPENINGS

Reports from the north side of the Island of Jamaica said a heavy rain storm had destroyed 25,000 banana trees.

Thirty-seven earth tremors were felt recently in Japan within 48 hours. Some lives were lost in panics caused by the quakes and considerable material damage was reported.

A memorial park erected by the Canadian Women's Press Club to the memory of the late Col. George Ham, famous Canadian journalist, who founded the club has been unveiled at Whitch, Ont.

Canada's flag floated over the Canadian Legion at Washington on Victoria Day. It was the first time that it was officially displayed in Washington, D.C. Vice Premier, Canadian minister, having won the Union Jack on previous occasions.

Professor Hugh Edward Fickett, noted authority on Canadian natural history, is dead at Oxford at the age of 72. Professor Fickett was professor of colonial history at Oxford for 15 years. He was the author of many books on British Colonial policy and development.

According to a story in the Toronto Star, Captain Charles Lindbergh's family can claim relationship to William Lyon Mackenzie, and therefore the famous New York flyer flew in relation to Premier Mackenzie King of Canada. His grandfather was Charles H. Lind, born at Shrewsbury, Mass., an aviator and gunner, plunged twice in his death at Muskogee, Mich., in full view of his 45-year-old mother and a large crowd of spectators. Whether lost, his trip on his parachute has on the big bag opened. Mrs. Webster lost consciousness.

Will Construct Seadromes

Landing places for aeroplanes to be anchored in Atlantic Ocean.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger says that announcement was made by Edward E. Armstrong, inventor of Williamson, Ind., that work would be started within six months on "seadromes," or landing field to be anchored in the Atlantic Ocean as a station for trans-Atlantic aeroplanes.

Mr. Armstrong was quoted as saying that plans were under way for the formation of a trans-oceanic flying organization. He indicated the organization might be headed by Captain Charles A. Lindbergh.

The first seadrome, The Public Ledger says, will be about 100 feet square, and will be anchored at a point 500 miles slightly north and east of New York. If the first seadrome is effective eight full size aeroplanes will be built, each 3,200 feet long, at a cost of $1,500,000 each.

A New Building Material

A new material called eucalypt is being made from the resin of eucalypt, and is being used in some parts of Australia for building houses. Some parts of the Federal Parliament House in Canberra have been built of eucalypt, and model houses have been built at Canberra and other towns to demonstrate its value.

Extend Period Of
Aviation Agreement

U.S. and Canadian Airmen Cross

Bar on Defined Conditions

The existing agreement between the United States and Canadian Governments by which aviators of either country may fly into the territory of the other under certain defined conditions has been extended until October 31. The extension of the agreement was accomplished by the exchange of notes between the State Department and the Canadian Legation.

The agreement has been in effect since 1922. It provides that when an American aviator desires to fly into Canada he shall give notice in advance to the secretary of the Canadian Air Board at Ottawa, giving the date of the proposed flight, the owner's name and address, the pilot's name and qualifications, type of machine to be used, the route and duration of the flight and the purpose for which it is to be undertaken. The procedure is the same for Canadian flyers desiring to visit the United States by air.

Recalls Romance of Boer War

Woman Derwath Rider, Who Married

British Colonel is Dead

By the death of Mrs. Charles Vaughan, widow of Col. A. Cecil Vaughan, of Long Beach, near Cardiff, Wales, a remarkable romance of the Boer War is recalled. Mrs. Vaughan was a relative of President Kruger, was a skilled horsewoman, and acted as a dispatch rider for the Boers. Col. Vaughan, then being a British force in a campaign, was attacking a Boer post when the young Afrikaner woman dashed on an on-horse in her aid to the beleaguered. As she returned to camp, Capt. Vaughan saw her being captured and the dispatch rider, he later, in his report, found out the woman. The romance thus came to light.

Col. Vaughan, who was killed in action, was a member of the British forces in the Boer War. He was a member of the British forces in the Boer War. He was a member of the British forces in the Boer War.

Not a "Vanishing Race"

Indian Population in Western Canada

Is About 55,000

From Ottawa comes the statement that the Indians now living in the population of the west are no longer a "vanishing race." In western Canada the total population today is about 25,000.

It is welcome news. We should with the Indians well. This picture shows people from the generally live west of North America. The descendants of ancient Canada who most probably entered the Western Hemisphere from the Orient across the strip of land that has now part of the Bering Strait, the Indians still retain the kindly life which civilization has reserved for them.

Studying History
Of Canada

Knowledge of Dominion Best Equipment for Good Citizens

Most Canadian students decided to give a complete course in Canadian history for the first time in the record of that institution. The reason given for this is that the Department of History feels the necessity of allowing students a chance of obtaining a more complete knowledge of the history of the Dominion. The history of Canada will be a third-year course, following a complete course on the history of the Western Hemisphere. It is designed to enable the student here to grasp trans-Atlantic conditions in the Pacific further states.

This is a step in the right direction, taken not before it was taken. These familiar with education at all institutions in this country often complained that students were taught far too little of general world history and geography, but surely it is the proper thing, and the right thing, for every student to know his own land first, and to know its history thoroughly. How otherwise can he fit himself adequately for the duties of citizenship and all they imply.

It is necessary to know what history prompted the men who fought for freedom and rights in the past in order to realize how Canada has grown to be what she is today. It is essential to have a clear conception of the ideal that have guided the fight for Confederation in order to understand the problems of the present. The knowledge of the past is the best possible equipment for a citizen. It is essential to have a clear conception of the ideal that have guided the fight for Confederation in order to understand the problems of the present. The knowledge of the past is the best possible equipment for a citizen.

Mr. Baldwin moved wisely, and in the right direction, in this matter.

For Empire Unity

Premier Baldwin Says Empire is a

Great Force for Righteousness

"We must devote our best energies in the years to come. The British Empire, as it is, is a great force for righteousness in the world. The British Empire, as it is, is a great force for righteousness in the world. The British Empire, as it is, is a great force for righteousness in the world.

Signs of True Prosperity

Making Not Hoarding of Wealth

Means True Prosperity

Balance and refinement are not symbols of prosperity, neither are palatial residences nor huge government buildings. For every individual residence, there will be a thousand hovels. The true signs of wealth and prosperity are growing crops, live stock grazing on the hill sides, the buzz of the saw in the forest, minerals rolling in the surface of the working mines. It is the creation of wealth, not the hoarding of it, that brings prosperity to a nation.

An Old Chinese Custom

Remaining of 400 Being Moved From

Toronto for Ancestor Worship

The Chinese of Toronto are taking steps to remove the remains of 400 Chinese buried in Ontario with a view to sending them to China for reburial there. Mr. Mark, of a Chinese publishing house, said that there would be at least 200 sent to Canton, the entire cost being in the vicinity of $12,000.

"It is an old custom," said Mr. Mark, and was connected with ancestor worship. The Chinese believe in the worship of the elders of their family. They believed in the spirit, that the soul is a part of the body, and that the soul is a part of the body.
